

4.7 | THE LAW THAT SHOULD BE APPLIED

If you believe that the previous decision applied the wrong law to your case, explain in this section what law should be applied to decide your appeal. Legal authorities may include EEOC regulations, laws passed by the U.S. Congress, judicial decisions, especially those issued by the U.S. Supreme Court, and EEOC federal sector administrative appellate decisions.

It may be difficult for people representing themselves to determine the appropriate law. If you are not able to figure this out, you can skip this section.
